The Global Certification Authority

GlobalSign is a credible and well established Certification Authority and SSL Provider. A leader in public trust services, GlobalSign has been issuing trusted digital certificates since 1996 - delivering its Public Trust from a number of highly ubiquitous public root certificates . These trusted roots are recognized by all major web browsers, web servers, email clients and Internet applications; as well as devices such as Smartphones, Palm and all major PDAs and mobile phones.

Accredited to the highest standards

As a WebTrust accredited public certificate authority, one of the longest serving WebTrust compliant CAs in the world, GlobalSign offers publicly trusted SSL (standard and new Extended Validation), S/MIME and code signing certificates. These core solutions allow our thousands of enterprise customers to conduct secure online transactions and data submission in only minutes, and provide tamper-proof distributable code as well as being able to bind identities to client certificates for email security and remote two factor authentication, such as SSL VPNs.

A prestigious history, a long term future

GlobalSign has a rich history of investors, including major banks and public companies. This credible background, expert staff and clear vision has helped GlobalSign become a leading entity in digital certificate based security, operating many prestigious Government projects. The GlobalSign Partner network includes a number of well established affiliates, addressing enterprise customers in all territories throughout the globe and providing specialist sales, technical support and solution advice in numerous local languages.

Serving the Customer, wherever you are

GlobalSign's focus on customer service ensures that enterprises all over the world benefit from expert technical assistance, provided in many languages by phone, email and web. GlobalSign's core PKI skill set also ensures that large scale certificate based projects, whether enterprise PKI deployments or web hosting partner security solutions are delivered timely and effectively.
